To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing this letter in support of Surisa Surisa's application for the Global Talent (Exceptional Talent) visa.

My name is Colin Gibson and am a Production Designer in Film, Television and Theatre, largely in Australia but on occasion elsewhere in the world. One such occasion, FURY ROAD, allowed me the great pleasure of working with Surisa both in Namibia and South Africa. As one of a close group of collaborators, she shared equally with me both an Oscar and a treasured BAFTA award for best feature in 2015.

It is apparent to me that her talents are wide but her options narrow in the constrained film industry operating in South Africa in the last few years, and both her and the British media world would benefit from some cross-pollination.

Surisa would doubtless add an energy and diverse perspective to any and all projects she might share, indeed an enthusiasm and life force any community would welcome and benefit from...

Do yourselves a favour, as both an industry and a country, and make an invitation as soon as possible to Surisa.

Yours passionately,

Colin Gibson
